Maureen Howard

Author, Adjunct Professor
Department of the Arts, Columbia University

Maureen Howard is the author of nine novels, three of which, Grace Abounding, Expensive Habits and Natural History, were nominated for the prestigious PEN/Faulkner Award. In fact, the New York Times, which named Natural History a “Notable Book of the Year,” praised the author for her “vision and story-telling immediacy” while singling out her “alert heart.” Shaped in her native Bridgeport, Connecticut, that vision, immediacy and heart have served her well in a career that has spanned an amazing 45 years. Her 1975 memoir Facts of Life won the National Book Critics Circle Award for Non-Fiction, and caused the Boston Globe to rank her as “one of our most significant writers.” She received the 1997 Award in Fiction from the American Academy of Arts and Letters, which said she “commands what may be the most sublime lyric prose style in America. Maureen Howard is an American original of inimitable, prodigious talent, a major poet of the novel.” The Chicago Sun-Times put it this way: “Maureen Howard belongs to any list of the best American novelists practicing today.” Publishers

Weekly has said her “vigorous prose – at once earthy and sophisticated – is a graceful, arresting mix of metaphor, ironic humor and glistening images.” Her most recent work, published in 2004, is The Silver Screen, the third book of what she calls a “quartet” based on the four seasons. Ms. Howard’s literary output has included a variety of distinct genres. In addition to her novels and memoir, she has written essays, magazine pieces, short stories and two plays, and her editing includes the works of Edith Wharton. Clearly, her heart is still on the alert.

Maureen Howard graduated from Smith College. She has taught at Yale, Columbia, Rutgers, Princeton, Amherst College, and Boston University. She has served as executive vice-president of PEN and as a judge for the National Book Award, the Hemingway First Novel Prize, the PEN/Faulkner Award, and the Brandeis Medal. She is the recipient of Guggenheim, Ingram Merrill, Bunting, and National Endowment for the Arts fellowships. She is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Rabbi Irving Greenberg, Ph.D.

President of Jewish Life Network/Steinhardt Foundation

Rabbi Irving “Yitz” Greenberg is the president of the Jewish Life Network/Steinhardt Foundation. The Jewish Life Network’s mission is to create new institutions and initiatives to enrich the inner life – religious, cultural, institutional – of American Jewry. He served as chairman of the United States Holocaust Memorial Council from 2000-2002. He has written extensively on the theory and practice of pluralism and on the theology of Jewish-Christian relations. An ordained Orthodox rabbi, a Harvard Ph.D. and scholar, Rabbi Greenberg has been a seminal thinker on confronting the Holocaust as a transforming historical event and on Israel as the Jewish assumption of power and the beginning of a third era in Jewish history. In his book, Interpreters of Judaism in the Late Twentieth Century, Professor Steven T. Katz wrote, “No Jewish thinker has had a greater impact on the American Jewish community in the last two decades than Irving Greenberg.” Rabbi Greenberg has published numerous articles and monographs on Jewish thought and religion, including The Jewish Way: Living the Holidays (1988), a philosophy of Judaism based on an analysis of the Sabbath and holidays; Living in the Image of God:

Jewish Teachings to Perfect the World (1998); and the recently published For the Sake of Heaven and Earth: The New Encounter between Judaism and Christianity (Jewish Publication Society, 2004). From 1974 through 1997, he served as founding president of the National Jewish Center for Learning and Leadership (CLAL), a pioneering institution in the development of adult and leadership education in the Jewish community. It is a leader in intra-Jewish religious dialogue and the work of Jewish unity. Before CLAL was founded, he served as rabbi of the Riverdale (New York) Jewish Center, as associate professor of History at Yeshiva University, and as founder, chairman and professor in the Department of Jewish Studies of City College at the City University of New York. Goaded by his encounter with the Holocaust, Rabbi Greenberg joined the Jewish-Christian dialogue in the 1960s, initially to challenge Christians to overcome the legacy of the teaching of contempt. In the course of this dialogue, he was moved to a new appreciation of Christianity and began a decades-long project of developing a positive Jewish theology of Christianity.

University History

The Seal

The official seal of Sacred Heart University was introduced on July 22, 1963. It was designed by Frank Sullivan, an art teacher in New Jersey. Sullivan had been commissioned to design the seal by his friend, Dr. Maurice J. O'Sullivan, Sacred Heart University's first academic dean. The original pen and ink hangs in the diocesan museum at The Catholic Center in Bridgeport.

The original seal consists of a shield, a surrounding wreath of hearts and flowers, and the inscription "Universitas Sacri Cordis" in large letters on the outside of the seal and "Diocesis Bridgeportensis, 1963" on the inner circle.

The shield consists of a dexter — the right-hand side of a shield (the left as seen by the viewer) — and a sinister, the left-hand side of a shield. The dexter impalement bears the jurisdictional arms of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The bridge above waves of flowing water affords an apt expression of the name of the diocese that encompasses Fairfield County, Connecticut, where Sacred Heart University is located. The bridge represents service, which forges strong bonds of understanding and unity between diverse constituencies, while the vivifying water symbolizes the "port" by which new knowledge and ideas energize the scholars who commit themselves to the disciplines of academic inquiry. The Cross of Our Faith above the bridge dignifies the other symbols and identifies the University as a community that celebrates the richness of the Catholic intellectual tradition.

The sinister impalement displays the personal coat of arms of the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the founder of Sacred Heart University and the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The central checkered bar, taken from the Curtis family coat of arms, suggests the collaborative nature of the learning community in which each individual member contributes to the integrity of the whole. The two diamond-shaped lozenges, taken from the Costello family shield to honor the Bishop's mother, are placed in the upper portion to highlight the University's two most precious treasures: Love, the compassion of God as symbolized in the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and Truth, the goal of all scholarly activity. The University shield also honors Mary, the Seat of Wisdom, by including the crescent moon, which is the symbol of Our Lady under the title of the Immaculate Conception, chosen to signify the years that Bishop Curtis spent as a professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary.

The Name

Sacred Heart University was founded in 1963 by the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, to provide an institution of higher education that would serve the needs of the people of the diocese and region, regardless of their sex, race, creed or religion.

In October 1962, Bishop Curtis announced both the plan to open a college the following September, and its name, "Sacred Heart." The choice of name had a dual origin: it was the name of the Bishop's first pastorate in Bloomfield, N.J., and was a pledge from the Bishop attesting to the value of such an institution.

The Mission

Sacred Heart University is a coeducational, independent, Comprehensive institution of higher learning in the Catholic intellectual tradition whose primary objective is to prepare men and women to live in and make their contributions to the human community.

The University aims to assist in the development of people who are knowledgeable of self, rooted in faith, educated in mind, compassionate in heart, responsive to social and civic obligations, and able to respond to an ever-changing world. It does this by calling forth the intellectual potential of its students, nurturing each one's spiritual and moral growth, and deepening in them a sense of social responsibility. The University is committed to combining education for life with preparation for professional excellence.

Sacred Heart University is Catholic in tradition and spirit. As a Catholic university, it seeks to play its appropriate role in the modern world. It exemplifies in its life the Judeo-Christian values of the God-given freedom and dignity of every human person. Inspired by the ecumenical spirit of the Second Vatican Council, Sacred Heart University welcomes men and women of all religious traditions and beliefs who share its concerns for truth, scholarship, the dignity of the human person, freedom, and the betterment of human society. It values religious diversity as enhancing the University community and creating opportunities for dialogue in the common search for truth. Through its curricular and co-curricular activities and campus ministry programs, the University provides the context in which students have the opportunity to appropriate in a critical fashion their own religious traditions.

Sacred Heart University challenges its students to think critically, analyze carefully, evaluate with a sense of justice and proportion, and convey conclusions in an intelligible and articulate fashion. The University provides the environment in which its students can develop the aesthetic dimension of life by nurturing their abilities to imagine, create and appreciate. It assists students to acquire a rich understanding of their own cultural and family heritages so as to assume their responsibilities as conveyors and creators of culture and family.

As a community of teachers and scholars, Sacred Heart University exists for the pursuit of truth. It joins with other colleges and universities in the task of expanding human knowledge and deepening human understanding. It encourages and supports the scholarly and artistic work of its faculty and students. Further, it has a responsibility to share its resources and its special gifts and talents for the betterment of the human community. All members of the University community are strongly encouraged to participate in the wider community through service to others, especially the poor.

From its founding, the University has been recognized for its caring approach to students. This approach expresses the University's belief that each student is born with a unique set of qualities and skills. It respects the personal and academic freedom of each of its members while at the same time fostering a genuine experience of community. By so doing, it creates the environment in which each person in the University shares in common goals and a common commitment to truth, justice and concern for others.

The Mace

During the Middle Ages, the wood mace clad in metal was an effective weapon in battle, but as newer and more powerful military arms developed, it was transformed into a symbol of dignity and authority.

The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by bodyguards of 12th century English and French kings; by the end of the 16th century, they were used widely by officials of English cities and towns. Today, the use of the ceremonial mace is found in the British House of Parliament, carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and in university and college commencements and convocations.

The Sacred Heart University Mace traditionally is carried by the senior tenured faculty member and represents the President's responsibility as the chief academic and administrative officer of the University. Commissioned by President Anthony J. Cernera, Ph.D., to mark the University's 25th commencement, the mace is made of rosewood, mahogany, walnut and bronze.

Academic Dress

Tradition holds that the cap and gown were first used in ancient Greece when only youths of wealthy parents or those with patrons attended school. The wise teachers of the time believed that fine clothing and jewels should not be worn by the scholar but rather, that the scholar should wear the garments of the worker.

In the United States, the gown commonly worn for both the associate's and bachelor's degrees has pointed sleeves (with a slit for the arm). It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped open sleeves. All gowns are black and without trimming with the exception of the doctoral gown, which normally is trimmed with velvet, has three bars or chevrons on the sleeves and may be in distinctive color(s) governed by the school granting that degree. The master's and doctoral gowns may be worn open.

Upon graduation, students of old carried a mortarboard showing them to be masons of the future destined to build empires or cities or fountains of wisdom on the firm foundation of knowledge. To this day, graduates wear mortarboard caps and gowns, symbolizing that they are builders of the future.

The history of the hood, with which degree recipients are invested, dates back to 13th century England. Whether its origin is ecclesiastical or secular has never been settled. Hoods are two-and-one-half feet long for the associate's, three feet for the bachelor's, three-and-one-half feet for the master's and four feet for the doctor's degree. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution — red and white, in the case of Sacred Heart University. The color of the trim indicates the academic degree — white for arts, letters and humanities (B.A.), golden yellow for science (B.S.).

The hoods of those with graduate degrees, as well as the tassels on the mortarboards of the undergraduates, are often in the color associated with the academic field of specialization, as follows:
